Information for young people aged 15+

Hello

Your parent has called ACD.

ACD helps parents to speak up for your rights.

Your information

When we talk to your parents we will ask them questions about you.

This helps us give the right support for you and your family.

We will keep the information about you private.

We want to know what you think

Is it OK for your parents to give us information about you?

If you understand and want to say yes

You can tell us that it is OK for ACD to have your information.

You can:

- Send us an email: acdsupport@acd.org.au, or
- Tell us on the phone and call 03 9880 7000

This is called consent.

If you do not want to say yes

That is OK.

We can still give your family general information and support.

If you need more time

That is OK too.

We can arrange another time to talk.

If you cannot make this decision yourself

Your parent or carer can give consent for you.

Here is more information about how we will keep your information private

Read our privacy policy

ACD

Advocating for children with disability